

WATER COMPANY MAY NOT SELL

"Our Town"
J. B. WHITE

In my weekly browse through the printed pages the thrill of discovery is no less satisfactory than the unfolding of valuable facts in the world of research.

Mr. Landrum of the Dallas News is no stranger to this column. Again this week we give you Mr. Landrum in one of his rare moments with the gift of superb expression.

Discovering Jesus
There have been some marvelous discoveries in times past. The discovery of fire, for example put man on the road to civilization. If you sit and mull over that, it will carry your thoughts far, far out of yourself. Try it sometime before your own fireplace.

The discovery of America was a great event for the little epoch of which we are a part. Of course, for all we have the right to say, it may turn out that, by the time we ourselves become prehistoric, the little blunder whereby Columbus got to where he never intended to go may quence to anybody then living. We be of no particular interest or consequence can't tell about that now.

But wouldn't it be a glorious thing if this old world were some day suddenly to discover Jesus of Nazareth?

On the Emmaus Road

Be not hasty to say that everybody has already discovered Jesus. That is talk too shallow for a thinking man's lips. In a world of mass cowardice and widespread cruelty; in a world where granaries groan and multitudes hunger; in a world where the few rule by fear, and hatred is an accepted formula for social advancement in the creed of hundreds of millions of souls—in such a world, dare any sensible person to say that Jesus which is called the Christ is known and understood?

It may be that we really have come a little way from the culture of the swamp and the justice of the jungle; but, in the long sweep of eternal verities, it does seem indeed a little way.

They who were on the Emmaus Road in company with the Master recalled afterward that their eyes were holden. It is so with us also; our own eyes are holden.

Signs of Hopefulness

It is not good always to be on the lookout for evil, either in ourselves or in our neighbors. It is better to look for the good. And good there is to be seen, even in this wicked and stiffnecked generation.

Here and there we can find, if we seek them, signs that men are groping out of the misery toward some miracle of divine grace, some Messiah for causes bitterly lost and passionately held dear.

Blinded we are by the mists of misunderstanding, it is true; shackled we are by prejudices forged in ignorance and arrogance to keep brethren estranged and apart. Yet the aching heart of a frustrated world yearns today toward the Unattained, the Unsoiled and the Undimmed. It may be that the world, in the very agony of its unrest, is about to discover the calm Carpenter of Galilee

Catholic and Jew

Joseph V. Connally spoke as a Catholic layman at the National Eucharistic Congress at New Orleans last month, and this is a part of what he said:

"He looks out upon that same world and sees strife and hatred and confusion and bloodshed. He sees even more. He had hoped for better; He had prayed for better; He had died for better.

"No need to ask Him why this seeming failure of the world. It is written through weary centuries of misery, wherever and whenever the world has forgotten Him.

"He has not failed men; men have failed Him. . . .

"As recorded in the opening verses of the Gospel according to Matthew, Jesus was a Jew, directly descended

ROCKDALE IS DECLARED WINNER

Roosevelt Issues Thanksgiving Call

President Roosevelt said in his annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation today the nation had ample cause to be thankful for peace among other blessings.

"We have lived in peace and understanding with our neighbors and have seen the world escape from the impending disaster of a general war," the chief executive said.

"In the time of our fortune it is fitting that we offer prayers for unfortunate people in other lands who are in dire distress at this our Thanksgiving season."

The proclamation designated Thursday, November 24th, as a day of general thanksgiving.

Lands Yield Goodly Harvest.

The President said, "Our lands have yielded a goodly harvest, and the toiler in shop and mill receive a more just return for his labor."

"We have cherished and preserved our democracy."

The chief executive noted that "our fathers set aside such a day as they hewed a nation of the primeval forest."

"The observance was consecrated when George Washington issued a thanksgiving proclamation in the first year of his presidency," he said. "Abraham Lincoln set apart 'a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father Who dwelleth in the heavens.'"

"Thus from our earliest recorded history, Americans have thanked God for their blessings. In our deepest natures, in our very souls, we, like all mankind since the earliest origin of mankind, turned to God in time of trouble and in time of happiness. 'In God we trust.'"

BELTON TIGERS THROWN OUT

Rockdale has been declared the winner in district 28 B football as a result of disqualifications voted on Monday against the Belton team because the Bell county representative had played an ineligible man. J. W. Biles, regular back field star of the Belton team this year, was found by the committee to have failed to make his grades while a student in the Nolanville school prior to his transfer to Belton and therefore was disqualified.

Previous to this action by the committee which met in Taylor on Monday, Hearne had been disqualified because of an ineligible player which at that time made Belton the winner of the north half of the district. When Hearne filed charges against Belton, evidence was produced to disqualify the Bell county team. Rockdale and Rosebud having tied for district honors came up for consideration and the committee declared Rockdale the winner because Rockdale had recently defeated Rosebud.

The play-off game for the district tie was set for Friday night in Taylor where Rockdale and Taylor will meet as a result of the disqualification of two strong contending teams. Taylor won the south half of the district.

Grand Jury Here Completes Work

Milam county grand jury in session here three days last week, examined 43 witnesses and returned 11 true bills of indictment, 11 being of the grade of felony and none being the grade of misdemeanor.

Charges were made against Ricardo Fientes for possession of Marijuana; Zanle Martin, two counts of burglary; Lorie Lee, alias Lorie Lane, forgery and passing forged instruments, three counts; Katie James, burning personal property; Dallas Bush, bigamy; and J. T. Marrs, arson.

Hilton Howell Named Waco Hospital Head

Hilton Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Howell of Cameron, was elected president of Hillcrest Memorial Hospital of Waco at the annual meeting of the board of directors on last Tuesday.

Mr. Howell is a graduate of the high school here and upon completion of his law course, moved to Waco where by reason of his fine executive ability, he has become a prominent attorney of that city.

Mr. Howell succeeds C. A. Nabors as president and Harry Lee Spencer was elected vice president. L. R. Keese was re-elected secretary and E. R. Nash was re-elected treasurer.

Meeting at Ad Hall

A meeting of farmers will be held at the Ad Hall school building Wednesday night, November 30th at 7:30. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss the election on December 10th at which time farmers will vote on whether they want the government to control cotton production for another year. The announcement of the Ad Hall meeting was omitted through error from the published list of meeting dates.

Fords Win Approval

L. G. Russell and L. W. Cain, officials of the Ford Motor Company made a recent visit to Cameron. The first showing of the Ford V8's for 1939 attracted a large crowd of citizens who were very expressive in their approval of the new cars. H. H. Stedman, local Ford dealer, said the new cars met the commendation of the public better than any Ford car in years.

Mrs. Rush A. Thomas will go to Austin for Thanksgiving Day to spend it with her daughter, Miss Viola Thomas who is a student at State, and they will enjoy the game that afternoon.

Letters to Santa Claus

Beginning next week a copy of the Herald will be mailed to every school in Milam county. In exchange for this courtesy we are asking teachers to arrange at once for the small children to write letters to Santa Claus to be published in the annual Christmas edition of the Herald, which is to be mailed on December 22, 1938. Children who are not attending school are invited to send in their letters also.

Anti-New Deal Congressman Visits In Cameron

Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls spent the week end in Cameron, a guest of M. G. Cox. In the recent primary campaign Mr. Gossett was nominated over the new deal congressman, veteran McFarland and will take his seat in January.

Joyce C. Cox, general attorney for the Santa Fe Railroad in Chicago, was also in Cameron to visit with his father and to meet his old friend, Mr. Gossett.

He will be one of the youngest members in Congress and was elected on an anti-new deal platform, one of the few men to oppose the Roosevelt administration and succeed to office.

Six Years in Texas Prison for Forgery

The trial of Lovie Lee, alias Lovie Lane, charged with forgery and passing of forged instruments, held in district court here Monday and for which he pleaded guilty in all three cases, netted him six years in the state penitentiary.

Other cases held on Monday included George A. Scott, who pleaded guilty before a jury for charges of forgery and passing of forged instruments and received seven years in the penitentiary; Shedwick McDaniel, charged with the theft of two pigs, received a four year suspended sentence; Roy Edwards, charged with theft of four chickens, pleaded guilty and got thirty days in county jail; and Zanle Martin, charged with burglary received five years in the state penitentiary.

New Variety Corn Grown in County Is Shown Here

Ten years ago Joe Klement who lives on Rural Route 1, out of Cameron began planting a good variety of June corn. He saved the seed and began experiments with production of this corn, mixing with the seed each year other varieties of corn so that today he has a distinct species of corn which he says is the most successful he has seen grown in this county.

This week Mr. Klement brought six ears of this corn to the Herald office. One is blue, another blue and white, one is blue and strawberry, one deep red, still another is a mixed yellow and strawberry, and another light red with strawberry grains. Mr. Klement says this corn is a drought resister and grows well with little rain and although it is not a heavy corn, he says its feed value is good and considering the fact that it can be produced with very small rainfall he plans additional experiments.

Miss Alva Thompson of Temple visited friends in Cameron Sunday.

AGREEMENT IS LACKING

Although no official announcement has been made by the City Council, it was apparent that no understanding has yet been reached between the city and the Community Public Service Company regarding the sale of the water plant in Cameron.

Unless the city can obtain an agreement with the company to purchase the plant at the figure agreed upon by engineers as representing the value of the property, it is evident that a second error will be made in the program to own the water system. In 1936 the city, without first obtaining a statement from the water company, went ahead and asked the property owners to vote $150,000 in bonds, only to find the water company was not for sale and if so the offer of $130,000 made by the city was unacceptable.

Notwithstanding the fact that engineers have agreed upon the value of the system there is no indication the water company will sell at that figure nor is there any reason to expect the water company to submit to confiscation of its properties merely because an agreement has been reached as to its fiscal inventory value.

It became known here this week that the water company considers its properties in Cameron worth more than $171,000. If the city hopes to be able to purchase the water plant the present bond issue call will be insufficient in the event the company elects to ask more for its plant.

At no time during the past two years has any official statement been made by the city government relative to any agreement with the water company either as to price or disposition to sell. It was generally believed here that unless an agreement can be reached the bond issue called for December 6th will be useless and of no avail. The city is proceeding on a clause in the charter of the company which gives the city the right to purchase the water plant at any time it is offered for sale or the city elects to enter the utility field. The water company could and would be expected to resist enforcement of this clause in the courts if the city attempts to enforce the price which it considers unfair.

18 Months' Study Paves Way for Drama of "Suez"

Historical researchers pouring over ancient tomes, hoary records and secret memories have a simple choice these days. Their notes can be either enshrined in a doctor of Philosophy's thesis, or enlivened to provide the background for a brilliant, spectacular motion picture dramatization.

Eighteen months of careful academic research were required, for instance, before production on 20th Century-Fox's "Suez" could proceed past the preliminary planning stage. The task included the collecting of 300 sketches and portraits of the era, after which the sets and characters were modeled. The students examined 2,500 old books and sent to London, Paris and Alexandria for additional sketches, models, photos and other data.

The history of Ferdinand de Lesseps, the heroic builder of the canal, was minutely examined for the de-

Buffalo Bill Cody Portrayed on Screen

Buffalo Bill, beloved of every red-blooded American, comes back to life again in Universal's stirring drama of the old West, "Outlaw Express," which opens at the Milam Theatre Friday.

It is a story of pony express days, in the year 1869, and stars Bob Baker in the role of a postal inspector who finally succeeds in destroying the band of outlaws who have been way-laying and robbing the express

Jane Withers in "Always In Trouble" At the Cameron

When the members of the cast supporting Jane Withers in her newest 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Always In Trouble," sought diversion and relaxation between scenes, they invariably turned to reading the European news dispatches in the daily press.

"After working awhile with Miss Mischief," declared Director Joseph Santley, "we see the series of continental crises in a new light—they're not so bad after all! If you want real trouble, just be around when Jane gets going."

"She's always filled with good intentions. She's always trying to help folks out. She's always hoping to square things up. And always trouble, trouble, trouble!"

"Just look at this new picture, so appropriately named, 'Always In Trouble'. Jane and her family are shipwrecked, marooned on a desert island, threatened by a gang of smugglers—you never saw anything like it. And it's all because Jane had an idea!"

"She thinks there isn't a jan. she can't get out of, and darn it, there isn't!"

The screen play by Karen De Wolf and Robert Chapin, which is based on an original story by Albert Treymor and Jeff Moffitt, shows Jane as a poor little rich girl who decides to reform her family. The family has gone high-hat with their coining money and Jane doesn't like it.

On account of Jane the family yacht is wrecked and they're all marooned on a supposedly deserted island. Here Jane's "cure" is scheduled to begin, but before anything can be done about it a group of smugglers, who use the island as a secret base, take over. They decide to hold the family for ransom.

Those poor, foolish kidnapers! Jane's a little more than they bargained for. And just when she gets things under control, along comes the Coast Guard to clinch matters. But Jane accomplishes her purpose. The family is tamed and "Big Sister" finds romance.

Jean Rogers, Arthur Treacher, Robert Kellard, Eddie Collins, Andrew Tombes, Nana Bryant and Joan Woodbury are featured in the cast of "Always In Trouble," which opens Saturday at the Cameron Theatre. John Stone was associate producer.

"THANKSGIVING"

To "give" thanks, what does it mean? Surely, it includes our words of thanks. But more than that. Mere words could be empty sounds, without meaning. It is necessary that they came from the heart. That implies right thankful THINKING. But that is not all; for thankful thinking and thankful words should be backed up (evidenced) by thankful LIVING. Or, that we actually also GIVE thanks, not just think and say thanks. To GIVE for the glory of God, as His grateful children; in various ways, for various good and noble causes, whereby our fellowmen and we ourselves are benefitted, spiritually, morally physically; whereby God will be praised and glorified through our GIVING. Thankful THINKING, thankful SPEAKING, thankful LIVING, thankful GIVING that is "THANKS GIVING!"

CAMERON B SQUAD

Closing a season which has been more successful than figures indicate, the Cameron B Squad held the Sharp team to a 19 to 7 win. Sharp, featuring line plunges and end runs, scored in the 1st, 2nd, and 4th periods of play. Cameron's pass defense functioned more effectively than in the first game against Sharp, most of whose yardage in the second game was accounted for by running plays. Cameron's score in the 4th period was after a sustained drive down to Sharp's 5 yard stripe where Holloway went over for the touchdown. A pass from Walzel to Holloway tallied the extra point. Gerick and Harris, captained for the local boys and Aycocks played a stellar position.

Now that the season has come to an end, many judge only by wins or losses. The success or failure of a season of ball cannot be judged by wins or losses. Especially true is this of any B Squad, the purpose of which is to train the football beginners who have no idea of the fundamentals of ball and who must be taught every football principle and maneuver from the most detailed play to the least significant phases of that game. In spite of five losses one win, and one tie, the Cameron B Squad has had a successful season. R. T. Patterson, Jr., on whom has rested the responsibility for the training of these boys, deserves much credit for the showing he has made with them. He began his work with thirty men, most of whom were eighth graders, light and very inexperienced. After two weeks of practice, the boys held Rogers to a 6-0 win. The following week Patterson concentrated on blocking and passing and decided improvement was shown when Cameron downed the strong Hearne B 13-7.

Next Oenaville, probably the strongest Class C ball club in this section, won 13-7. Holland, against whom the boys made a disappointing showing, swept around Cameron's right end four times for a 25-0 victory. After losing to Hearne B 13-8 and the next week leaving Sharp still in the undefeated class, Patterson's men rallied to hold the strong Rogers Eagles to a scoreless tie. Concluding the season the boys were able to score on the powerful Sharp team and keep that team's score at 19. Regardless of wins or losses, the boys have gained a world of football experience and many of them have a real working knowledge of ball that will enable them to give of their best in A Squad work. For years the B Squad games have been against Class C schools which choose their players from the entire high school. The logical thing to do is to match games with regular B squads, a plan Patterson anticipates to follow.

So ends the 1938 B Squad season and the end brings much credit to the boys and their coach, both of whom have given unreservedly of time and effort.

The Great Example

It always has seemed to me that there is no better way to strengthen ourselves in fine resolves for the new year than to think of the examples of great lives in the past. It all of us the name and fame of George Washington will ever be enshrined in our hearts. On February 22 we dedicated our program to the memory of George Washington and to the thousands of good boys in this country who today hold him in their minds and hearts as an ideal citizen. We said on that occasion:

Those of you who hope to become men in this generation ought to ever hold the memory of George Washington as sacred. Because, my friends, it is the few great men—commercially, morally and religiously great—who have built this Nation and who will continue to guide the destinies of our country. If George Washington had served no other purpose on this earth than to teach boys and girls so impressively that they should not tell a lie, his mission would have been great. However, he did much more than that, of course.

In these times of variation of opinions within our ranks as a Nation, possibly nothing could be more appropriate than for us to drift in dreams back to the birthday of the father of our country. At that time what in the world could there have been for the folks to enjoy and brag about? No airplanes, no automobiles, no radios, no moving pictures, no electric lights nor paved roads. Nothing for the women to do except piece quilts and nothing for the men except to whittle with their pocket knives. So the prospects for that little Washington son were more remote than the hopes held out today to the mothers and fathers of millions of baby boys now. Yet he did become the founder of a Nation—greater than any other on earth.

But the folks 200 years ago had many things to be proud of, many of the same things we have today. They had the love and friendship of those with whom they lived. They had a cheery smile and a pleasant word, they could place a loving arm around a weeping mother who had lost her son. They could rejoice with parents when there were new arrivals in a family. And my friends, they had something else. They had faith in God. And without a doubt, it was that faith in God by the father of our country which enabled him to do all the great things he did and which accounts for the progress we as a Nation have made steadily since his time.

George Washington was a great man. There have been many great men and women in this world, but history records only a few, comparatively speaking. There were thousands of great men during Washington's day, his co-workers and co-planners. My friends, it is not the words and deeds of one single great man that carry our Nation on to greater security and greater happiness. It is the accumulation of millions of good words and good deeds. In that way our civilization and our Nation become great.

Monuments and buildings have been erected in Washington's memory. Who can remember all the colleges, schools, towns, streets and fine institutions that have been named after Washington? Great libraries are filled with volumes written about him. All these serve as an incentive for boys and girls to see the good traits of Washington and to live noble, clean and useful lives; but, in my opinion, no greater tribute was ever written than that of Abraham Lincoln:

"Washington is the mightiest name on earth. Long since mightiest in the cause of civic liberty, still mightiest on moral reformation. On that name no eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun or greatness to the name of Washington is impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe we pronounce the name, and in its naked deathless splendor leave it shining on."

And oh, God, today possibly more than ever before we need leadership for this Nation, leadership of the Washington type, and wilt Thou hush the tongues of those who hamper and harass our present leaders who more nearly approach that type and cause all of us to be serious-minded and sincere and helpful in the growth of our Nation as a leader amongst Nations.

You can be as great as George Washington in your particular sphere, amongst your friends and loved ones. You can do this by your words and actions. And today, on the anniversary of George Washington's birthday, let us resolve, each of us, to be a great man or a great woman in our little way. The impression we make on the pages of eternity will be as prominent as that of Washington. And the good we add as we go along will be as lasting—if we have the faith of our fathers. The Constitution.

Washington and his generation left us more than the inspiration of their lives. Among these is the guide for our life and the people living together. I speak of the Constitution, and on Constitution Day I dedicated our program to this great charter of our liberties and our freedom:

You know it is funny, folks, how smart so many people are in this country, yet how so many of us go haywire and get off the track sometimes. That Constitution was written and adopted nearly 150 years ago today. It is written in the plainest language. We studied it in school. We know it is a great document. We all realize it should be our guiding star. But once in a while even our smartest men make laws that are not in conformity with that Constitution, and so the Supreme Court has to come along and wipe such laws off the slate.

It looks like our forefathers used the simplest of language, but I guess they never figured out we would become so complicated as we are. You know a good attorney can argue either side of a question, and we have so many good learned attorneys nowadays that one can prove a thing is white and another that it is black, so that it often turns into a matter of which side has the most and best attorneys. In one of the celebrated Supreme Court decisions of late five Justices said no and four said yes. So it was no. But 120,000,000 of us had a lot of fun or excitement, or something, before the Supreme Court found out that all of us were wrong. But the main thing is that the Constitution always wins out. It has guided this country safely along for 149 years and is still going strong.

Here is something you school children have committed to memory, or at least you will be expected to:

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America."

Boys and girls, that is the preamble to one of the greatest documents ever written by man. It was adopted by the Representatives of the different States and went into effect on Sept. 17, 1787. It has been our road map, so to speak, ever since. We have made some detours, but each time the Supreme Court guided us back to the main highway.

Every school boy and girl should hold sacred the names of those great men who believed that this country should be free, who fought for its freedom and who then created that great document. The Constitution gives us rights and liberties unexcelled by those of any other place on earth. No words can properly eulogize or glorify those staunch, intelligent, God-fearing men. Their handiwork has weathered the storms of a century and a half. It has stood the acid test. And today perhaps more than ever before the Constitution shines brightly to light the pathway of freedom and equal opportunity for a great people.

From time to time the ideals and the spirit of our Nation as embodied in the Constitution is threatened from the outside. Our forefathers realized this danger and set up an armed force of soldiers. We honor these patriotic citizens in uniform on Army Day. How fitting that a radio program should be dedicated to these stalwart young men who comprise our defense units:

These young men are splendid specimens of robust, healthy, clean manhood. We owe them a debt of gratitude for the splendid service they perform in times of peace, as well as for the protection they guarantee us in time of war. We thank their mothers for the sons who are serving our Nation. They, too, are serving their country through their sons. But, my friends, many of those stalwart young men in our army and navy were bouncing on their mother's knee or tugging at her skirt on April 6, 1917, when the World War was declared. They do not realize the horrors of war. It is to them only a thrilling possibility, and we hope that their training skill and reputation for accurate marksmanship will keep our country's foes shivering in their dens and that there will be no more war.

No, my friends, let us all pray that there will be no more war. The tragedies of the last war are still too vivid. When we view the tragedies, count the heartaches and glimpse the fragments of suffering humanity on their hospital cots—to say nothing of those who sleep quietly in death—certainly it awakens in us the unalterable conviction that He Who created heaven and earth, and He Who laid down our simple rules of conduct in the Ten Commandments, is certainly Master of our lives and of the world in which we live.

God grant that men and women will learn that there is no short cut to happiness. God grant that men's hearts and minds will grow more unselfish and that the greed and hatred which sow the seeds of war will be wiped out from our beautiful world. This can be accomplished in one way, and in only one way, friends—as we become more familiar with our Heavenly Father and follow the rules which He has laid down to govern our behavior. For happiness and peace there is only one sure recipe; there is only one solid permanent anchor to tie to—the old rugged cross on which our Lord and Savior was crucified, to save us from our earthly weaknesses.

Giving THANKS

Since early times custom has led to general observance of Thanksgiving Day.

This bank will be closed on Thursday November 24. Uppermost in our thoughts will be those who through the years have been our patrons, manifesting their confidence in this bank and its capable officials.

So at this time we count our blessings in terms of friendships that have ripened in years of service and opportunity to serve.

of the United States of America, do herby designate Thursday, the twenty-fourth of November, 1938, as a day of general thanksgiving.

Our fathers set aside such a day as they hewed a nation from the primal forest. The observance was consecrated when George Washington issued a thanksgiving proclamation
in the first year of his presidency.
Abraham Lincoln set apart "a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father Who dwelleth in the heavens."

Thus, from our earliest recorded history, Americans have thanked God for their blessings. In our deepest natures, in our very souls, we, like all mankind since the earliest origin of mankind, turn to God in time of trouble and in time of happiness.
"In God we trust."

For the blessings which have been ours during the present year we have ample cause to be thankful.

Democracy Preserved.

Our lands have yielded a goodly harvest, and the toiler in shop and mill receive a more just return for his labor.

We have cherished and preserved
our democracy.

We have lived in peace and understanding with our neighbors and have seen the world escape the impending disaster of a general war.

In the time of our fortune it is fitting that we offer prayers for unfortunate people in other lands who are in dire distress at this our thanksgiving season.

Let us remember them in our families and our churches when, on the day appointed, we offer our thanks to Almighty God. May we by our way of living merit the continuance of His goodness.

Poultry Show

White Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds.

Local breeders and poultry producers showed a good number of well bred and selected birds which as a whole were far superior to the average quality of the show exhibits.
Outstanding breeds and varieties in this group were Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, and White Leghorns.

The local FFA boys having outstanding exhibits were Alfred Dusek, and Billie Bryan. These boys showed approximately 40 birds each from several breeds.

The birds from the Rockdale chapter were shown by three boys, Ernest Lorenz, Robert Lee Mena and Vaughn Tuma. The most outstanding of which was Lorenz. High quality birds were shown by these boys who were outstanding exhibitors.

The premiums furnished by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce were fairly well distributed among the group as a whole with the larger portion going to Billie Bryan, Alfred Dusek and Ernest Lorenz.

Bryan won first on number of birds shown, second on best display of Mederanian class of birds and second on number of first and second places made on individual birds.
Dusek won third place on number of birds shown, first on number of first and second places made on individuals shown. Lorenz won first on best fitted white birds,
first on best display of birds from Mederanian class, and third on number of first and second places made on individuals.

Lorenz had every outstanding exhibit of white Leghorns.

The Champion male, champion female and champion pen all were won by Fuchs Brothers of Buckholts.

Our Town

from King David. Our beloved Mother Mary was a Jewess; and when Jesus was born the Wise Men of the East came to Jerusalem saying,
'Where is He that is born King of the Jews?' Jesus, like John the Baptist, was nominally addressed as 'Rabbi,'
which means master, the title used by the Jewish Talmud students for their teachers.

"Always this should be borne in mind by all Catholic journalists who must look with horror upon the cancer of race hatred and religious persecution that has fixed itself upon the body of Europe, and threatens to infect the western areas of the world. The cries of fleeing Jewish children 1,900 years after the time of Herod must, in the name of Christ,
be answered now by Catholic press
and Catholic Action and Catholic force and power of every kind."

The Household of Christ

A Jewish Rabbi found written down these golden words of this Catholic layman and sent the writing to a Protestant layman who sends it now to you. A thousand years ago it could not so have turned out. A thousand years from now—who can tell?

"Catholic journalists see about them in the world today the terrible onslaughts against Jew and Christian alike. Both are, in the broadest sense, of the household of Christ, whom we honor in this eucharistic congress."

Again come the words of a layman who, for some of us, is of another flock and of another fold; but breathe not his words the breath of Olivet? Do they not burn with the inward Eucharist that warmed those hearts on Emmaus Road? The household of Christ!

Perhaps—who knows? — perhaps we shall yet discover Jesus.

Mexican Boy Scout Troop Organized

A troop of Boy Scouts for Mexican boys of this city is being organized under the leadership of J. W. Hay-good, district commissioner of the Boy Scout organization here, and under the sponsorship of the local Lions Club.

The first meeting with a group of Mexican boys was held on last Saturday night, at which time fifteen boys of scout age were signed. On Saturday night, November 26, a second meeting will be held with the boys to complete the troop organization. A prominent guest at this meeting will be Charles Rutledge, Field Scout Executive from Temple.
Mr. Haygood reports the Mexican boys are very enthusiastic over this organization for their benefit and he believes they will make a fine group of Boy Scouts.

Buffalo Bill

One of the principal characters in the production is "Bill Cody," a particularly daring pony express rider.
Few remember that Buffalo Bill, himself, was a pony express rider, and covered the very routes that are described in "Outlaw Express." Carlyle Moore, portrays the famous plain-man, and brings to the part a salty tang and wild abandon.

Bob Baker sings several new songs
during this thrilling production and also enjoys a most romantic love
episode with the beautiful Cecilia Callejo, his leading lady.

tail that would serve Tyrone Power
as a basis for his characterization.

Loretta Young and Annabella interpret the two great loves in de Lesseps' life in the picture which opens Sunday at the Cameron Theatre.

Intensive research produced the actual plans of the dredges used in the excavation of the canal, and six of the monsters were constructed for large-scale scenes filmed in the desert near Yuma, Arizona. Twenty-three of the ships that first sailed
through Suez at the inauguration ceremonies also were accurately reproduced.

Not so overwhelming in size, but interesting because of its rarity, was the data on court tennis. There are only three places in the United States where this game may be played (it is quite different from the familiar lawn tennis.) The game dates back to the Middle Ages and has few players in this country. The rules are amazingly complicated and the technique so difficult that it takes longer than the average modern cares to spend to master the elements of the game.

Tyrone Power and Joseph Schildkraut received intensive coaching in the game for the opening scenes of "Suez" and now numbered among the select few American masters. The attention paid to the court tennis sequences are indicative of the clever way in which Director Allan Dwan established his "mood."

The game is one of the aristocracy
and by its very novelty to most audiences serves to emphasize the atmosphere of aristocratic elegance in which de Lesseps was brought up.
Yet by its swift action and event-ment it gets this point across most entertainingly.

The marked contrast between this life and de Lesseps' later hardships and struggles against man and nature
in the desert makes the terrifying climax of the black simoon—the devil-wind of the Sahara—even more telling in its brutal power.

Daryl F. Zanuck was in charge of production of "Suez," which is one of the Movie Quiz $250,000 contest pictures.

Phillip Dunne and Julien Josephson wrote the screen play based on a story by Sam Duncan. Gene Markey was associate producer.

Texas Ranger Show Opens Here Saturday December 3rd

When the Texas Ranger Company erects their mammoth tent theatre beautiful for a one night only engagement in Cameron, Saturday Dec. 3rd the amusement loving public of this section have a real treat in store in the form of a good stage show, also an opportunity of seeing and hearing the spoken word of drama, with real live performers which has been denied the public. Only on rare occasions such as amateur performances and high school plays. For its "In Person Stage Show" and something entirely different, the management of the "Texas Ranger Co." has secured for this seasons tour, the services of the Western Star, Donald Null and his Wonder Horse "Chico." Both appear in person at each performance, supported by a large company of talented artists, each selected for their particular part in the Texas Ranger, one of the South West's most romantic plays. According to the management, the Texas Ranger possesses all the qualities of and evening entertainment, laughter, romance, villainy, pathos and comedy. A first class production is promised, as special scenery and electrical effects are provided to fully carry out the story of the play. Between the acts of this comedy drama, high class vaudeville will be presented, which include, The Nulls, high class entertainers, Eugenia Oxford, comedy singing and acrobatic dancing, featured the last to seasons at the Casa Manana, Fort Worth. Randall Smith Musical act, Don and Kennedy Novelty act, Myrtle Monger Dancing. The yodeling Ranger, Johnnie Perason and his guitar, Radio Singer, in songs of the range. Habby Habby Swain himself, that funny comedian in person. The Line Riders String Band featuring Jeanne Layne, The Sweetheart of the West, and others to entertain you. The Cowboy band will give a concert in front of the tent at 7 p. m. Randall Smith and his musical Mavericks make their appearance for a 15 minute program preceding the rise of the curtain, this is positively a guaranteed attraction, and if you enjoy real stage entertainment, it is worth driving miles to see. There are many features that are alone worth the price of admission which incidentally is very low, considering the fact a large company is carried.

For years this company has been playing Texas as well as adjoining states, and are always cordially received by large crowds, because their entertainment is clean, high class and wholesome. Popular prices will prevail when they appear for one night only in Cameron, Saturday December 3rd.

General admission prices 10c for Children, 25c for Grown Ups. Several hundred seats available at these prices. Special high back comfortable folding chairs may be obtained by those who care for them at a small additional price. The doors open at Seven, Orchestra Concert Seven Forty Five, Curtain rises promptly at Eight o'clock. The tent Theatre is positively water proof and well heated, you'll be comfortable regardless of weather conditions. Remember the date, December 3rd.

"Valley of the Giants" Drama of America's Last Frontier

"Valley of the Giants," produced by Warner Bros. in beautiful Technicolor, with Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor heading a brilliant cast, is scheduled to open at the Cameron Theatre Thursday.

Based upon the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, the picture tells a story typical of the valiant fight waged some thirty-odd years ago to prevent the utter despoliation of California's noted redwood forests by ruthlessly selfish lumber interests.

Graft and corruption, legal trickery and plenty of outright physical violence were employed by the would-be despoilers to gain their ends, and all of this is strikingly depicted in the tense and exciting course of the unfoldment of the new Warner color picture.

Most of the action of the picture takes place outdoors and all of these outdoors scenes were filmed in the heart of the redwood country, with the result that the picture is not only an exciting piece of drama but also one of the most beautiful and one of the most impressive productions ever filmed. For people who have never seen these forests of giant trees, the film probably will also be a rare educational treat.

The hero of the tale, depicted by Morris is a young lumberman but an altruistic one with a deep regard for the heritage of the ages represented by the big trees, and he leads the battle—it is literally a battle—to prevent the potential despoilers from gaining their ends. The latter are personified in Charles Bickford, an eastern lumberman who has already ruined the forests of his native state and sees in the giant redwoods only so many feet of valuable lumber.

His chief device to gain control of the acreage in which he intends to operate is to import several hundred of San Francisco's most raffish citizens to file homestead claims which they immediately turn over to him. This plot is defeated when a friend of the hero's "accidentally" upsets a lamp in the land office and it burns down, destroying all the records of the filings and transfers of title.

But Bickford has other cards up his sleeve, cards marked "violence," and he sets to work trying to win by force what he could not gain by trickery. The native lumbermen, led by Morris, meet force with force, and the result is several of the most hair-raising sequences ever filmed.

Besides Morris, Bickford and Miss Trevor, the cast includes such skilled players as Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, Donald Crisp, Jack La Rue, John Litel, Dick Purcell, El Brendel, Russell Simpson and Jerry Colonna. The screen adaptation was written by Seton I. Miller and Michael Fessier, and the production was directed by William Keighley.

Record Attendance At K. of C. Meeting

Cameron Council Knights of Columbus held its last regular meeting at the Burlington school. Cameron Council has as many of its members residents of Burlington and other communities.

This meeting was one of the largest in the history of the council, with approximately sixty-five per cent of the membership present.

An address of welcome for the Burlington Knights was made by Joe Geiser. Other speakers for the evening included Rev. T. F. O'Sullivan, Dr. Rischard and several others. A Hillbilly orchestra entertained the guests, and later refreshments consisting of stew and other delicacies were served. Everyone had an enjoyable evening and all are looking forward to another meeting of this kind.

Miss Annie Sanders, formerly of Milam county and now a resident of California, was a Cameron visitor over the week end.

To enjoy work, a woman must feel well. Cardui aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more energy from their food—and so increases resistance to the strain of functional periodic pain. Try it!

Bill Triggs to Have Role in Baylor Theatre Production

Bill Triggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Triggs of Cameron and a student of Baylor University, Waco, has been cast in the role of Lucilius in the play "Julius Caesar," which is to be presented by the Baylor Little Theatre as its winter production, it was announced here this week.

The play, "Julius Caesar," was a tremendous success on the Broadway stage last season, and will go into production immediately for presentation in February.

Mr. Triggs is very talented and has many friends here who will be glad to know of the part he is to play in this worthy production.

Kay Francis Tells the Secrets Of An Actress

Mystery ceased to be showmanship when pictures began to talk, according to Kay Francis, revealing some of the "Secrets of an Actress."

That opinion was voiced by the raven-haired Warner Bros. star in refuting accusations that she has deliberately tried to be mysterious.

"Talking in films and on the radio removed the seventh veil, so far as the glamour of mystery in pictures is concerned," Kay remarked. "In the first place I deny that I'm mysterious, and if, unconsciously, I have given that impression, it is because I don't carry my screen career into private life.

"I haven't had the slightest trouble from fans because I insisted on living a normal and quiet private life," the star continued. "In fact, I think the tales of fans 'mobbing' stars and otherwise being rude and unreasonable are vastly exaggerated.

"Fans I've encountered have been uniformly kind and courteous. This applies not only in Hollywood, where it is no uncommon experience to find oneself walking or shopping or sitting at a cafe with a film celebrity—but in other towns where I've travelled.

"Unlike so many picture actresses who can pass unrecognized in a crowd unless they obviously disguise themselves with dark glasses and so on, I'm usually recognized. People will often smile and nod, or ask if I'm Kay Francis. Children, of course, frequently want autographs. Grown-ups ordinarily are simply kindly and polite and seldom even stare curiously or rudely at anyone, as I've so often read they do.

"This isn't my experience alone. Friends of mine who are top-ranking in screen popularity, both men and women, find the fans equally understanding and sympathetic."

Kay voiced this opinion on the set of her newest film at Warner Bros., "Secrets of an Actress," which comes to the Cameron as the Preview feature Saturday.

Mrs. Len W. Moore of Davilla made a business visit to Cameron on Saturday.

TEXAS' RICHEST HARVEST

• From the Panhandle to the Rio Grande, from the Sabine to the New Mexican border, Texas abounds in oil. It is the largest single "money-crop" in the state. Oil pays Texas a revenue of well over $600,000,000 per year, exclusive of the 50-odd million dollars of state and federal taxes. This huge figure includes over $200,000,000 for materials, supplies and service; about the same amount for salaries and wages; about $20,000,000 for lease rentals; about twice that much for lease bonuses; some 30 to 40 million dollars for royalties; and the balance in state and county taxes.

The Humble Company has been privileged to participate in the development of this Texas industry. During 1937, Humble produced approximately 138,000 barrels of Texas oil per day; it bought from other producers and royalty owners approximately 229,000 barrels per day, sending a total of 367,000 barrels to the markets of the world—more than 25 per cent of Texas' total daily production.

The Company provides direct employment for approximately 14,000 Texans. So it realizes what this oil business means to Texas—and what Texas means to the oil business. The appreciation of this fact stands behind the unexcelled service the Texas motorist finds in Humble Service Stations.

Reat and Miss Otelia Wilkerson, Miss Frances Glaser, Mrs. Alton Bryant, Miss Lillian Smidht, Miss Dulcie McCall, Kinnard Griffin and Rodney Barker. High score for the ladies went to Mrs. Herbert Colburn who was presented with an attractive wall pocket. High score for the men went to Joe Ford who received a prize an ash tray. At the conclusion of the evening the hostess served a refreshment plate of sandwiches, cookies and hot chocolate.

A singing convention held at the Rockdale High School gymnasium on Sunday was well attended by a large number of citizens of Rockdale and a number of guests from Cameron and other communities of Milam county. Clarence Jackson of Salty is acting president. The next quarterly meeting will be held in Cameron on the 3rd Sunday in February.

Mrs. Clem Zarosky assisted by Miss Agnes Heibner and Miss Bessie Marak, gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Rose Zarosky, bride elect of Johnnie Bohac of Granger, on last Thursday night. Forty-five guests were present to take part in the delightful activities of the evening. The many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the bride in a unique way. A small boy, nephew of Mrs. Zarosky pulled in an attractive wagon loaded with lovely gifts, which he presented to the bride-to-be. At the conclusion of the evening angel food cake, cookies and punch were served to the guests. Plate favors were small wedding bells.

The Alpha Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of the president, Billye Reno on Monday evening, November 21. The secretary read communications from the National office. A tentative discussion of our Christmas functions was held. The educational program was entitled "Life As An Art." Maurine Wies and Dell Horstmann gave excellent discussions; each member then gave her individual interpretation. Those present for the meeting were: Billye Reno, Ruth Newton, Maurine Wies, Ada Margaret Smith, Pauline Starnes, Dell Horstmann, Frances Sharpe, Maude Stevenson and Dorothy Kidd.

A dinner and supper, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klement of Cameron who were married on Tuesday morning, November 15, at St. Monica's Church here, was served at the home of the bride on their wedding day and a dance given that night was well attended by a large number of the couple's friends. On last Sunday, the wedding cake was cut at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klement, parents of the groom. The cake, baked by Miss Gertrude Jistel, sister of the bride, was three tiered and beautifully iced. Those present to help the newlyweds celebrate this occasion were Fred Jistel, father of the bride, Misses Elizabeth, Gertrude, Agnes and Louise Jistel, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jistel and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jistel, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schattel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wertenberger, Henry Schattel, Jr., and Miss Annie Krathovil. Mr. and Mrs. Klement will make their home at Ad Hall.

Miss Florence Bartek and Frank Jedlicka, both of Cameron were married Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Monica's Catholic Church here with Rev. George Apel, pastor, officiating. The bride was attractively dressed in floor length white satin with bolero. Over her dress she wore a long wedding veil of white and she carried a lovely bouquet of white chrysanthemums, gladiolus, and bridal wreath. An attractive bandeau of tiny white chrysanthemums was the head dress. Around her neck hung a tiny gold cross which was beautiful against the snow white of her dress. Edward Jedlicka, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Albina Jedlicka, sister of the groom was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Winnie Belle Tomasek, Lewis Mikula, Joe Petery and Antone Mikula. The young couple will make their home in Cameron where the groom is employed with one of the local grocery stores.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

On Thanksgiving Day, The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches in all countries will hold a special Thanksgiving service to which the public is cordially invited. The service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon, the topic of which is "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is given for the individual members of the congregation to audibly express their gratitude to God for the blessings which have come to them during the year.

The Golden Text is: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High" (Psalms 50:14.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Ye are the children of the Lord your God: . . . and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest" (Duet. 14:1, 29.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brothers need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (page 518)

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Barnett and children, Bobbie and David of Baytown, who have been visiting for the last few days with her mother, Mrs. Lottie Bigbee, returned to their home Sunday.
